If there was a call to Arms tomorrow who is ready? Who is REALLY ready to go? Do you really have the intestinal fortitude to answer the call or are you just a facebook Commando? No need to respond to this post: just ask yourself. Am I all talk or am I ready to walk away from my family and creature comforts to protect and defend the rights and liberties of this country and its people? This is intended as a heart check, you may talk all tough on here but do you have the guts to act?

Once again I ask "When is enough ENOUGH? How may Patriots have to be arrested for false or entrapped charges before you take this seriously? How much heat could YOU handle for being a stand up Patriot and persecuted by the feds? How far will you go to stand against the tyranny of our current cabal? Are you REALLY willing to defend this countries constitutional republic with your life and property? If we had just HALF of the FB "Patriots" who act and talk tough, we would already have our country back.

I have been attacked by the government and "Patriots" for my fight for our country. "Patriots" who are suppose to support and defend the constitution, instead side with government and defend unconstitutional law(WHICH IS NOT LAW) and inform on others and they only talk a good game, but there is no actions behind it. Playing in the woods, is NOT going to save our republic. You, who are just sitting idly by are just as guilty as those who are pushing for a police state in our country!

I went to the border and spent MY MONEY supporting our border crisis. I spent 4 months living primitively with lil or no luxuries. I left my family and my company to try to set the example and to PROVE the government is LYING to us! Myself and the men and women who worked the Texas border DOCUMENTED the lies and PROVED them. (1)The first lie was our border was secure, (2)second was we didnt have authority to arrest illegal invaders and (3)third was we didnt have the necessary training to be effective in the repelling of foreign invaders. We at Camp LoneStar ON VIDEO PROVED the border was INSECURE, we DID have the power of arrest (citizen arrest) and we DID posses the necessary skills (common sense) to repel invaders WITHOUT having federal training. It is all documented on Youtube. You can find the videos by searching KC Noneya. I showed on video the feds DO NOT have the authority over We the people to defend our state, as seen in BP Jamup Video.

In the last few years we had Brandon Raub and Charles Dyer take the hit first for standing up to the feds. Brandon Raub was illegally held under mental warrant, Charles was falsely convicted after 3 trials and sent to prison for 30 years. Then in the last 12 months Robert Beecher(who i s under federal sentence), John Hildinger (went thru several months in jail and trials), John Ttp Foerster (still locked up awaiting sentencing) , myself (awaiting Justice), Anthony P Bosworth (awaiting justice), Richard Cook (locked up awaiting justice), William Wolf (entrapped and in jail awaiting justice).

The Patriots under federal charges is growing CONSTANTLY as MOST of yall watch. How will you feel when they come for YOU and "Patriots" stand by and watch you persecuted like many have watched us be railroaded? When they finally get more of us who have and will act, WHO will be there to defend you and your families?

Sound off, and lets make a plan of ACTION to restore our Constitutional Republic, (committees of safety, Patriot communities, etc)and stop the FB tough talk and keyboard commando crap. Your words are falling on deaf ears and people see us as the boy who cries Wolf. Its time to shit or get off the pot or our country will be lost!!!

Outpost of Freedom

when the government is pointing their guns in the wrong direction

April 19, 2015

April 19, 2015

Gary Hunt
Outpost of Freedom
April 19, 2015

Twenty years ago, today, the Murrah Federal Courthouse, in Oklahoma City, was bombed by a patriot who intended to light the fuse of violent resistance to the government's overarching, and deadly, imposition upon the rights of the people. Some of the motivation behind this act was a response to the efforts of government, just two years earlier, to divest some people of their right to bear arms, and other infringements of the Constitution.

Twenty-two years ago, today, agencies of the federal government murdered over 80 people; in Waco, Texas; men, women, and children, in their own home/Church. Again, divesting the right to bear arms, and other constitutional infringements were the underlying elements in this event.

Two-hundred and forty years ago, today, more than 80 men stood on Lexington Green to demonstrate dissatisfaction with the government's effort to divest them of their constitutional and sacred right to keep arms.

Today, K. C. Massey's attorney, Louis Sorola, filed (electronically) a Motion to Dismiss the Indictment upon which the government's case against Massey rests. That motion is an objection to the government's attempt to divest Massey of his right to bear arms, by overreaching constitutional authority.

There are two elements in each of these events. First, arms; Second, the Constitution

Now, the government and Mainstream Media downplay the latter and demonize the former. And, that has become the underlying creed of law enforcement, as demonstrated by the short (45 second) video clip, "Sheriff's Deputy Admits MRAPs Are For Constitutionals". Though the jurisdiction and the date of the video are not known (unless someone comes forward with that information), it is apparent that the two deputies are serious in what they say:

Deputy #1: "We've got a lot of constitutionalists and a lot of people that stockpile weapons, a lot of ammunition, and they have [intelligible] weapons here locally."

So, the first Deputy sees danger in "constitutionalists" stockpiling weapons and ammo. He sounds a lot like General Gage, military governor of Massachusetts.

Deputy #2: "It's worldwide. The world is unstable now; you look anywhere, you watch the news."

As to the second, what is "worldwide"? The fear of constitutionalists is an international problem? "Hey, buddy! Yeah, you, the deputy, don't you work for this county? What are you doing dealing in international matters?"

As George Santayana said, "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it."

Have we learned? Can we remember? What, possibly, can the government do to return to the Constitution, and avoid the violence that they have already begun?

Let us not slide further into that abyss of abject slavery and obedience to a government that was supposed to belong to us.

Government's purpose is to govern the Government,
Not to govern the People.

KC Massey's Letters from Jail

Massey - Letters from Jail #10

Oct 2, 2015

To all American Patriots,

Please, I beg you to help me seek justice. My civil and constitutional rights have been overtly violated. In court records the court even acknowledged under the language and the authority of the law I am not guilty of any crime. I have been kidnapped by the federal government and illegally, unconstitutionally forced into federal jurisdiction and court for no illegal actions by me.

It is the equivalent of a Texas citizen being kidnapped by the state of Illinois, extradited to Illinois and charged by Illinois for violating Illinois state law even though I never went to Illinois.

The federal government has kidnapped and imprisoned me without any jurisdiction or authority by law. I was and am in full compliance with Texas law, the state in which I am a lifelong resident. I was on private property in my own state discouraging illegal invaders and cleaning up the messes the illegal invaders left behind. I was video documenting and reporting to the world the illegal invasion problem and the lack of any federal actions to stop the illegal invasions.

We personally witnessed the US Border Patrol allowing illegal invasion and the Border Patrols illegal and unconstitutional treatment of Legal US citizens, while allowing illegal smuggling and illegal invaders to penetrate our borders in Texas.

The Border Patrol committed a aggravated felony against us by shooting at us unprovoked. In an effort to cover up their felonious actions against American citizens, they have illegally and unconstitutionally, without jurisdiction and authority, kidnapped myself and John Forrester.

The Border Patrol never punished the BP agent who violated Texas and federal law by illegally and unlawfully discharging his firearm, unprovoked, at American citizen while allowing cartel members to move unabated. The Government committed perjury in court documents against me as established in testimony before the court. The BP not only committed an aggravated felony assault but also illegally detained and seized personal property from private citizens on private property, without warrant or articulable probable cause to justify the illegal and unlawful persecution of American Patriots, defending our state and country.

The details and chronology of this travesty of justice can be found at Oupost of Freedom. Please share this story to all patriots and help us receive justice.

Thank you Patriots, today it is us, tomorrow it could be you. Please help us before you are find yourself in our position, being illegally persecuted by our own government.

Sincerely, Kevin Massey

Patriots, this week is the week!! The illegal unlawful federal government persecution of me will make history this week. Anyone who is ready to make a STAND and not back down, contact me.

I have suffered long enough under this illegal persecution (over 6 months) and either the Judge will do the right thing or I will. I have been very patient and they have cost me my freedom of movement and cost me thousands of dollars UNLAWFULLY and against the Constitution, and I will not keep taking it laying down. I am not a criminal nor will I be treated as such without repercussion.

This is my call for Action if the courts fail to adhere to law. When criminals get killed rioters tear down cities, when patriots get arrested we all sit back and do nothing. Its time to make a stand America.

Addendum: I said what I said, above, because it is frustrating to wait two weeks since the final motions were given to the Court. Two weeks of limbo -- I don't know if the judge will rule with the law, or with the government that has maliciously prosecuted me.

I could remove the post, however, since it was posted, I can't deny that I said it. So I just want to make clear that it was frustration that made me post it. I will withhold any statements regarding what I feel until after Judge Hanen makes his decision in my case.

You WILL win this, KC. You're a good man. This is a test ... Give God the glory no matter which way the judge decides. Prayer is the ONLY way we will win against this regime and it's evil minions!!!

DESTRUCTIVE DEVICE DETERMINATION

To: Special Agent Cesar Zambrano
Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives
1200 North Commerce Center Street
McAllen, TX 78501

I/N: 782120-15-0004

Date: January 28, 2015

As requested, the following items were examined/evaluated in order to form an opinion as to the design, construction, functioning, effects, and technical classification of the materials involved in this investigation.

ITEMS SUBMITTED FOR ANALYSIS OR EVALUATION

Item 1. ATF Report of Investigation # 7.

Item 2. ATF Forensic Laboratory Report number 14S0312, dated December 22, 2014.

Item 3. Physical evidence, disassembled on October 28, 2014.

DEVICE DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION

The materials evaluated in this investigation are consistent with sixteen (16) improvised explosive weapons commonly known as 37mm grenades.

1. Six (6) devices labeled ("SS") consisted of a plastic type tube sealed at each end with plastic type plugs that contained a quantity of steel discs. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge casing that contained a quantity of explosive powder, identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation.
2. Three (3) devices labeled ("00") consisted of a plastic type tube sealed at each end with plastic type plugs. Laboratory analysis identified a quantity of zinc-plated steel slingshot pellets and pyrotechnic stars that were sealed within the tube. One of the plugs had been modified by having a hole drilled/punched through its center face. A length of pyrotechnic fuse was inserted through the hole of the modified plug in contact with the confined explosives as a means of initiation. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge that contained a quantity of explosive powder, identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation. The pyrotechnic fuse extending from the projectile was in contact with the explosive powder contained in the cartridge casing to initiate a time delay upon firing.

3. Two (2) devices labeled ("P") consisted of a plastic type tube sealed at each end with plastic type plugs that contained a quantity of lead pointed expanding air gun pellets. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge casing that contained a quantity of explosive powder, identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation.
4. Two (2) devices labeled ("BREACH") consisted of a plastic type tube sealed at each end with plastic type plugs that contained a quantity of steel discs. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge casing that contained a quantity of explosive powder, identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation.
5. Two (2) devices consisted of a two part plastic fin-stabilized projectile with cavity. Laboratory analysis identified a quantity of steel discs, a mixture of pyrotechnic stars, plant hulls and a perchlorate explosive mixture that were sealed within the projectile. The two part projectile was secured together with a polyurethane-based adhesive. A length of pyrotechnic fuse was inserted through the fin assembly in contact with the confined explosives as a means of initiation. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge that contained a quantity of explosive powder identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation. The pyrotechnic fuse extending from the projectile was in contact with the explosive powder contained in the cartridge casing to initiate a time delay upon firing.
6. One (1) device consisted of a two part plastic fin-stabilized projectile with cavity. Laboratory analysis identified a quantity of pyrotechnic stars and plant hulls that were sealed within the projectile. The two part projectile was secured together with a polyurethane-based adhesive. A length of pyrotechnic fuse was inserted through the fin assembly in contact with the confined explosives as a means of initiation. The sealed tube was then fitted into a 37mm cartridge that contained a quantity of explosive powder identified by laboratory analysis as a black powder substitute, similar to FFg size granulation. The pyrotechnic fuse extending from the projectile was in contact with the explosive powder contained in the cartridge casing to initiate a time delay upon firing.

DEVICE FUNCTIONING AND EFFECTS

Firing the projectiles 2, 5, and 6 would launch the grenade, igniting the pyrotechnic delay fuse and, after a short delay, result in an explosion. These explosions would produce blast, fragmentary, and thermal effects capable of causing property damage, injury and/or death to person near the explosion.

Firing the projectiles 1, 3, and 4 would launch the grenade, upon impact, these devices would be capable of causing property damage, injury and/or death to persons being impacted by the grenade.

DESTRUCTIVE DEVICE DETERMINATION

OPINION

Based upon the above, it is the opinion of the assigned that the sixteen (16) devices in this investigation were designed as weapons and are properly identified as improvised explosive grenades. Improvised explosive grenades are destructive devices as the term is defined in 26 U.S.C., §5845(f). Additionally pyrotechnic compositions are explosives as that term is defined in 18 U.S.C. Chapter 40.

EXAMINATION/ANALYSIS AND INTERPRETATION OF RESULTS

Exhibits 31-A, 32-A, 33-A, 34-A, 34-B, 35-A, 36-A, and 37-A each consisted of a black powder substitute which contained ascorbic acid. The black powder substitute was most similar in size to FFg granulation. The manufacturer of the black powder substitute was not determined.

Exhibit 31-B contained a mixture of pyrotechnic stars, plant hulls, and a perchlorate explosive mixture, which consisted of potassium perchlorate and aluminum. Exhibit 31-B also contained fifty-two steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in diameter, and seventy steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{1}{8}$ inch in diameter.

Exhibit 31-C consisted of an aluminum ammunition casing, which contained a spent primer. The casing measured approximately 3.06 inches in length, approximately 1.52 inches in outer diameter, and approximately 1.39 inches in inner diameter. A silicone-based adhesive surrounded the open end of the casing.

Exhibit 31-D contained the remains of a green plastic fin-stabilized projectile, with a length of an approximate $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch diameter functional red pyrotechnic fuse protruding through the base of the fin. The projectile was constructed of two sections, the base and the nose cone, which were secured together with a polyurethane-based adhesive. The projectile measured approximately 1.51 inches in diameter and approximately 4.63 inches in length. The red pyrotechnic fuse passed through an approximate $1\frac{1}{4}$ -inch diameter circular piece of cardboard, which was secured to the fuse with hot melt glue. The outer surface of the projectile was partially coated with a black material.

Exhibit 31-E contained two lengths of an approximate $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch diameter functional red pyrotechnic fuse.

Exhibit 32-B consisted of a yellow polyethylene ammunition casing, which contained a spent primer. The casing measured approximately 2.08 inches in length, approximately 1.52 inches in outer diameter, and approximately 1.39 inches in inner diameter. The word "BREACH" was handwritten in black ink on the base.

Exhibit 32-C contained ninety-nine steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in diameter, and one hundred eighty-five steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{1}{8}$ inch in diameter.

Exhibit 33-B contained a mixture of two types of smokeless powder, at least one of which was double base, and a tan material chemically consistent with a road flare (fusee) formulation. The smokeless powders included flattened ball and disc morphology types. A single pyrotechnic star was also identified in the mixture.

Exhibit 33-C contained a length of an approximate $\frac{1}{8}$ -inch diameter functional green pyrotechnic fuse.

Exhibit 34-C contained twenty-one steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in diameter, and seventy-three steel discs which measured approximately $\frac{1}{8}$ inch in diameter.
